Goals for Physician Practice Connections (PPC)

- Evaluate systematic approach to delivering preventive and chronic care (Wagner Chronic Care Model)
- Build on IOM's recommendation to shift from "blaming" individual clinicians to improving systems
- Create measures that are actionable for physician practices
- Validate measures by relating them to clinical performance and patient experience results

Adapting PPC for the Patient-Centered Medical Home

- New PPC-PCMH version released in January 2008
 - Aligned standards with Joint Principles
 - Incorporated critical attributes of PCMH
 - Defined foundational elements (“must pass” requirements)
- PPC-PCMH endorsed by ACP, AAFP, AAP, AOA, other specialties and PCPCC for use in demos

Endorsed by National Quality Forum Sept 2008
(as “Medical Home System Survey”)

The Patient-Centered Medical Home Defined

ACP, AAFP, AAP, AOA Joint Principles – April 2007

- Personal physician – each patient has an ongoing relationship with a personal physician trained to provide first contact, continuous and comprehensive care.
- Physician directed medical practice – the personal physician leads a team of individuals at the practice level who collectively take responsibility for the ongoing care of patients.
- Whole person orientation – the personal physician is responsible for providing for all the patient's health care needs or taking responsibility for appropriately arranging care with other qualified professionals. This includes care for all stages of life; acute care; chronic care; preventive services; and end of life care.
- Care is coordinated and/or integrated across all elements of the complex health care system (e.g., subspecialty care, hospitals, home health agencies, nursing homes) and the patient's community (e.g., family, public and private community-based services). Care is facilitated by registries, information technology, health information exchange and other means to assure that patients get the indicated care when and where they need and want it in a culturally and linguistically appropriate manner.

Who is Recognized?

- NCQA Recognizes practices, for PCMH it is those that meet the criteria described by the endorsed principles of the Patient-Centered Medical Home
- NCQA defines a practice as a physician or physicians practicing together at a single geographic location
- Recognition is at the practice-site level

Welcome to NCQA's Interactive Survey System which contains all the information necessary for understanding and undergoing an NCQA Accreditation, Certification or Recognition program. We've designed our electronic format to facilitate understanding of our standards and make our survey process more efficient.

Margaret E. O'Kane,
President, NCQA

For any NCQA evaluation program, you can purchase either of two components of the Interactive Survey System. The first component - Standards and Guidelines - presents the details of our programs in a searchable, layered format via the Web. Using the second component - the Survey Tool, which has the Standards and Guidelines embedded in it - you can evaluate your performance against the standards as NCQA will evaluate it and you can prepare for an NCQA survey. When you are ready, the Survey Tool becomes the basis for the NCQA survey. You complete the Survey Tool, attach necessary documentation and submit both to NCQA. Using the Survey Tool allows you to fully understand how you meet the standards and allows NCQA to conduct surveys economically and efficiently, with most of the survey occurring
